UPDATE:
 Certain sections of the Soho website will soon be available in Thai.

The 2007 Thailand Property Awards will showcase and award the very best and most progressive property website in Thailand. Soho Properties has been shortlisted in the Best Agent Website category.

In recent months, a number of Thai projects and firms have either been nominated for awards or won accolades from organisations located in various parts of the world. In fact, the past few years have seen more and more Thai-based companies being recognised for their success and professionalism, and the Thai property sector has become increasingly known on the world stage.

NEW VIDEO SERVICE TO BE MADE AVAILABLE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

For a fee, we will soon be able to provide a video service to our customers, allowing them to showcase their properties, also featuring narrative.

This service will be far clearer than the 360 degree panoramic that many estate agents employ, to give visitors a far more visual representation than merely photographs.

We will be advertising this on our website in a week or so.
